PREFACE

Writing has been considered an important indicator of EFL students' language proficiency. However, it is agreed that EFL students often face challenges in mastering such a productive skill. This is because, apart from the writing skill itself, it also involves, for example, the ability to use language components, such as grammatical structures and vocabulary, and the ability to come up with ideas to work on a particular writing topic. Therefore, this book is designed as a step-by-step guide to help English major students build up their writing skills regarding graphic description and essay writing.

Concerning the structure of this book, there are two primary sections with eight units. Section one is meticulously designed to equip students with the skills needed to accurately and vividly describe visuals, an important aspect of academic writing. Each unit in this section progressively builds on the previous one, ensuring a comprehensive understanding of graphic description. Section two is dedicated to the essential skills and strategies for essay writing. This section is structured to guide students through the process of developing coherent and well-organized essays. Each unit in this section addresses a specific type of essay writing, ensuring that students are able to build a strong foundation in this critical area. Throughout both sections, the book includes a variety of examples, exercises, and writing prompts designed to engage students and provide practical applications of the concepts discussed.

By working through this book, it is expected that students will not only improve their writing skills but also gain confidence in their ability to tackle more advanced writing tasks in their academic careers.
